No Strings Attached is a cute romantic comedy that men and women around the world will love. Not to mention that the chemistry between Natalie and Ashton is undeniable. The guys will love Natalie Portman's cute demeanor throughout the movie while the girls will just love Ashton Kutcher. Did I mention that you also get to see his ass? This movie is a good pick-me up. If you are in for a laugh and prepared to see "awww" throughout the movie, then go out with your friends or significant other this Valentines Week and see No Strings Attached. Trust me, men, your woman will be happy that you took them to see this.
